

Write an introduction to an informative and factual blog post titled "4 Ingredients for Success". You've probably heard advice like "Plan your day, fill your calendar with appointments, and prioritize" before. These are all pieces of advice that are related to setting priorities, getting your work done on time, or feeling busy. But what about the other side of this coin? What if you didn't have any work because you were too successful — would life be easier or worse? Would we be better off focusing on our jobs than our daily lives? Or would we naturally work less and enjoy life more as a result? Let's explore this concept in depth. Join with people around the world by sharing your opinions on the related topics below. Write about these topics in your blog post, and include at least four links to sources for further reading. - <http://www.inc.com/magazine/20090401/work-life-balance-21st-century.html>
